About Ben

Ben is 25 years old & a Pro Surfer. He has been a competitive surfer for the past 15 years. He lives at Wallabi Point which is a small beachside village between Old Bar and Saltwater Point.

Ben has had an outstanding junior surfing career achieving two world surfing titles in under 16's and under 18's boys divisions. He then went on to also win the title of Australian Pro Junior Surfing champion at age 19.

For the past 4 years Ben has been surfing in the WCT and WQS events throughout the world.

He will again be competing this year in the WQS events but when home for a period of time between events is now offering camps to help surfers develop their surfing potential & learn from his experiences just what it takes to be a Pro Surfer.

Ben grew up in Old Bar by the beach in a surfing environment with father Martin Dunn being a professional coach for the past 25 years. Growing up in this environment Ben has learnt a lot from being a part of many coaching groups and constantly being around surfers of a high standard. Ben has learnt what is needed to improve your style & how to critique & recognise what is needed to help you improve.
